Management ABC

ABC stands for "Adventure Based Councelling" – once introduced by "Project Adventure". It is an experiential learning concept.

Here your coach presents exciting outdoor challenges in a program that has been designed especially for you and your development goals concerning "leadership" and "management".

Your program offers you great opportunities to increase your knowledge and capability in leadership strategies.

By discussing your experiences with your coach and colleagues you might get perfect ideas of how to imply some of the findings into your practical work setting as an executive.
